GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

In the great triple bill now at the Grand opera house the amusement patrons have an attraction that should draw all New Haven and its suburbs to this elegant house of amusement, and the home of popular prices.

The Elliotts in themselves furnish a complete performance well worth the price of admission, and with the addition of the Klany Living pictures and the celebrated Spanish gymnast, Elmo, a bill is presented of the highest order and one that can hardly be again equalled during the season.

The Elliotts open the performance with their wonderful bicycle carnival, which is a novelty never yet seen here, and the height of excitement is reached when they dance the famous Russian quadrille, winding in and out in every direction through pillars of fire and bearing huge torches in their hands.

They are next seen in their great bicycle tournament, where every conceivable style of bicycle and one wheel riding is exhibited in a way that brings down the house.

The last act of the great Elliott family is their musical act, when they play on fifty different instruments, selecting popular music of the day as well as composition of a higher order.

Senorita Elmo has a most difficult and graceful act on the trapeze, which marks her as one of the most daring aerial artists now before the public.

The original Klany living pictures are also greatly admired.

"So skillfully are the living posers combined with painted canvas, so perfectly motionless do they remain, that one could confidently declare he saw a true oil painting or group of statuary. It is the most beautiful and most ingenious exhibition of its kind ever seen here."

During the first part of the program fifteen pictures are shown, and in the second part of the program sixteen more are exhibited.

It is the determination of Mr. Bunnell to give his patrons nothing but the best, and he has sealed his prices this year to meet the approbation of all. From these seats of prices no departure will be made, however strong the attraction presented.

A large audience was present last night. There will be matinees to-day and Saturday. The house was delightfully cool last night.

POLI'S WONDERLAND THEATRE.

Large crowds were present both afternoon and evening yesterday to admire the handsomely renovated theatre and enjoy the splendid performance. All applauded Sad Alfarabi's sensational tricks of balancing and manipulation, and Professor Macart's dog and monkey comedians. They are brilliant features of a very brilliant performance. The other specialty acts attracted much attention also. Basco and Roberts kept everyone laughing heartily with their breakfast acrobatic comedy, as did also Daly and Devere. The beautiful Sahart, Stanley and Scanlon, John E. Drew, and Miles and Raymond, also kept everyone in good humor with their lively comedy.

MEETING OF RED MEN.

The German Branch of the Order holding a National Bi-Annual Convention in Bridgeport—New Haven Delegates.

Bridgeport, Aug. 27.—The national convention of the German Independent Order of Red Men began their biennial session at Madison hall to-day at 9 a. m. The session may last two days longer. There are some 150 delegates present and their headquarters are at the hotel, opposite the depot.

Nearly all the delegates arrived on the steamer Rosedale last evening and were escorted to headquarters. After that there was a short street parade, many women taking part. The delegates are conspicuous by their flaming red badges.

The first business of the convention was the appointment of a committee of credentials, who made their report of accredited delegates.

Only one name was rejected, that of Ferdinand Leiss of Victoria, Stamm, Bridgeport. The reason of his rejection was that he is not a past chief and cannot be admitted into the Grand lodge. Besides the delegates there are some fifty members of the grand body in attendance. Albert Schaaf, grand chief of Connecticut, is master of ceremonies.

There are something like 70,000 members of the order in the country. It is an offshoot of the Red Men order, the split occurring in 1894 in Philadelphia, when the German element asked that for German lodges the ritual be in the German language. The request was denied and the German element seceded.

There was a big banquet this evening at the hall, at which many of the city officials were in attendance. A grand concert followed.

Among the delegates present are Paul Gebhard and Charles Nieller of New Haven.

New Haven Cyclists Hold Up.

C. M. Sears and several other wheelmen of this city were arrested in Stratford last Sunday for riding on the sidewalks. Mr. Sears in speaking of it says that the riders supposed they were riding in a cow path, and were surprised to find that it was dignified by the Stratford officials by the title of a sidewalk. He also says that the posters are not put in places where visiting wheelmen can see them. For the unintentional violation of the law the gentlemen were fined $10 each.

Mr. Hewitt, the Chapel street druggist, and wife left yesterday for a stay at his old home at Pomfret, Vt.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT.

John Lego Passed Away Yesterday at the Age of Nearly Eighty-seven Years.—The Pioneer Baker of New Haven.—A Member of Quinipiac Lodge, I. O. F., and of St. Thomas' Church.

John Lego, an old and well known citizen, died yesterday afternoon at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Weston Ferris, at 195 Wooster street.

Mr. Lego at the time of his death was eighty-six years and eight months of age. He had been in ill health for the last ten years and had been confined to the house for over a year. The cause of the decline was old age and death was caused by a gradual wearing out. He was born in this city and early in life started in the bakery business in Bridgeport. In the latter part of the forties he removed to New Haven, and started a bakery business on the "Dyke." He was in business in this city for forty years or up to about ten years ago. For years he conducted a grocery business in connection with the bakery. He was one of the original members of St. Thomas' church, and it is said that he was the only surviving one of the founders. He was formerly a vestryman of the church. Mr. Lego took possession of the store of the late John E. Bailey on Church street, next to Pratt's meat market, and remained in that location during the last ten years of his business life. He has been called the pioneer baker of New Haven.

He leaves four children, James W. Lego, shipping clerk of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad; Gideon S. Lego in business in Worcester, Mass.; Mrs. Weston Ferris of this city and an unmarried daughter, Emma, who resides with Mrs. Ferris. He was a member of Quinipiac lodge, I. O. F., and this lodge will conduct the funeral. The funeral will take place from the residence of Mrs. Ferris, 195 Wooster street, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Beardsley will officiate and the interment will be in Evergreen cemetery.

Mr. Lego was a most reliable, honorable man and was highly respected in the community where he had lived so long. His wife was a Miss Spencer of Seymour, and died eleven years ago. He formerly resided on Meadow street, and when he moved there, two or three houses were all the buildings there were on that street.

Has Returned to London.

London, Aug. 27.—Mr. W. T. Davis has returned to London after having spent the summer at the Pilgrim society of Plymouth, Mass., on a farm house at Scrooby, near Bawtry, Nottinghamshire. This house is situated on the site of the manor house where William Brewster organized the pilgrims in 1896.
